Unit Approval Considerations

Carefully review the application and approve only if it aligns with your unit's strategic initiatives and you are prepared to accept full fiscal and administrative responsibility for the investigator's actions on the proposal as outlined in the guidelines.

DRA Validations

The main purpose of the DRA review is to ensure the Unit/Department Approver selected on the application is accurate and in line with the PI's home unit in HR. The PI's home unit is automatically populated on the application.

- DRA compares the PI Home Unit field to Unit Approver selected to validate they represent the same unit.
- DRA Leads may also review the application for completeness as a preliminary check before the application routes to unit level approvers.
